To Whom It May Concern,

Alec is a dedicated problem solver who will always go the extra mile to get his work done, he has a tireless work ethic to churn out tickets. He exhibits very strong ownership of the Prime Trust API platform - often volunteering himself to deliver hotfixes to ensure the stability of the product. He is a fast learner who can pick up new languages/domain knowledge quickly.

In addition to his impressive individual efforts, Alec is a great team player. He is an eager pair programmer who brings the team together by being a communicative and determined coding partner. He always makes himself available to help out, whether he is familiar with the problem at hand or not. Alec is a strong addition to any team!

Sincerely,

Justin Cajayon
Engineering Manager at AidKit
https://www.linkedin.com/in/justincajayon/