To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to highly recommend Alec Funke for any future employment opportunities in the realm of backend development, especially in regards to payment service APIs. Having worked alongside Alec for a year at Primetrust, I have had the opportunity to witness firsthand his exceptional skills, work ethic, and team-oriented mindset.

Alec is an incredibly easy-going individual, creating a positive atmosphere within our team. His ability to actively listen and contribute relevant information when necessary has consistently enhanced our group discussions and project outcomes. His mature and collaborative approach to work, combined with his proactive nature in assisting others, has made him a valuable asset to our team.

One of Alec's most impressive qualities is his in-depth knowledge of the systems we work with. He is not only quick to implement effective solutions but also thoroughly understands the intricate details of our complex data flows. This was particularly evident in his interactions with me when I first joined the team. As a newcomer to payment service APIs, I found Alec's guidance invaluable. He generously took time out of his busy schedule to answer my questions and help me get up to speed, drawing on his own experiences as a new team member and expressing a genuine desire to alleviate any confusion or uncertainty I felt.

In conclusion, Alec is a mature, knowledgeable, and extremely capable professional, embodying all the qualities one could ask for in a team member. His willingness to support others, combined with his deep understanding of our systems and quick problem-solving skills, make him an exceptional candidate for any future opportunities. I am confident that he will bring the same level of commitment, expertise, and positive energy to any team lucky enough to have him.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely,

Michael Verbeck
https://www.linkedin.com/in/michael-verbeck/